WORLD CUP CLUBS YOUTH (WCC)
WCCW17 – WCC Women 17
WCCM17 – WCC Men 17
WCCM16 – WCC Men 16

1. Organizer and competing teams

The FIB EC entrusts a member association with the task of arranging the tournament.

Club teams eligible to participate in World Cups Clubs are nominated by their national association. The national associations nominate the best and top ranked national club teams in respective age as described underneath.

If the WCC is organized for:

- 6 teams: The best ranked club team from at least 3 countries. Remaining teams top ranked from host country.
- 8 teams: The two best ranked club teams from at least 3 countries. If remaining teams, top ranked from host country.
- 10 teams or more: Best ranked club teams from at least 3 countries (Russia 3, Sweden 3, Finland 2, Norway 2). If remaining teams, top ranked from host country.

FIB Technical Committee approves the teams/clubs.

2. Rules for the contest

- 2.1 The World Cup Clubs are played as single matches in the preliminary round. As official playing rules article 3.1 state: A bandy match is played between two team, each consisting of 11 players.

Playing time is full time as follows:

Full time for each group:

WCCW17 2 x 45 minutes

WCCM17 2 x 45 minutes

WCCM16 2 x 45 minutes

Playing time will be 2 x 30 minutes (when two matches on one or more days). FIB TC / EC decides if matches can be played 2 x 30 minutes.

Semifinals could be played when four teams or more participate at the tournament. These matches should be played full time. If possible, both semifinals will be played at the same time. If semifinals and final games will be played on the same day, the playing time will be 2 x 30 minutes.

When semifinals will be played: number 1 play number 4, and number 2 play number 3 in the semifinals. The two winners play the final, the two defeated teams play the bronze match.

If, as an exemption, no semifinals will be played: numbers 1 and 2 play the final. Numbers 3 and 4 play the bronze-match.

If possible, numbers 5 and 6 play for fifth place, etc. The best ranked teams from the preliminary round play as home team.

The team winning the final becomes the champions.
These matches should be played full time (except: if two matches per day).

There is no day off for rest.

The playing model could be different and flexible, this must be decided by FIB Technical Committee (TC) / Executive Committee (EC). EC only if economic consequences.

- 2.2 If a game in the preliminary round ends with a draw and the two teams can end up with the same number of points at the final table, there shall be a penalty stroke competition which is decisive to rank the two teams. If the two teams cannot end up with the same number of points at the final table no penalty stroke competition will be executed.

Penalty stroke competition: five penalty shots for each team (different players). If it is still a draw the penalty shots will continue one by one until a decisive result has been attained (different players (14) excluding goalkeepers).

In the preliminary round the result attained after playing time is counted.

- 2.3 If the preliminary round is played as a double round robin:
When two teams play each other two times in the preliminary round, there will be only one penalty stroke competition (according to 2.2). This is decisive in case these teams end with the same number of points.

If there was no draw in the matches between two teams but the goal difference is the same in these matches (2-0 and 0-2). Still, the teams can end up with the same number of points. In this case there should be a penalty stroke competition after the second match (according to 2.2).

- 2.4 The points are decisive for the placing in the preliminary round.

- 2.5 Should the points be equal for two teams the result between these two teams in the preliminary round is decisive. If a draw the result of the penalty strokes is decisive (see point 2.2).

- 2.6 Should the points be equal for three teams the score difference or – if this is equal - most scored goals (after playing time) attained in the matches between these three teams is decisive.
If the rule above in this paragraph can decide about the ranking for all three teams, the following rule is not to be used:
If one team can be separated (out of these three) the result in the preliminary round between the remaining two teams is decisive if the score difference and most scored goals are equal (see point 2.2). Proceed to 2.7.

- 2.7 Should the points be equal for four teams the score difference or – if this is equal - most scored goals (after playing time) attained in the matches between these four teams is decisive. If the score difference and most scored goals are equal for two teams see point 2.2 and 2.4.

- 2.8 Should still no separation be possible, the score difference from all the matches in the preliminary round is conclusive. Teams separated by points 2.5 and 2.6 have their place in the preliminary round but the score difference from the matches with these teams is included in the total score difference for all teams.
- 2.9 Should still no separation be possible, the total amount of penalty minutes from all the matches in the preliminary round is conclusive. 60 Minutes are counted for a direct red card (independent of the used match time).
- 2.10 If it is still impossible to separate the teams, it must be done by drawing of lots.
- 2.11 All matches played after the preliminary round are to be played until a winner is nominated. If it is a draw after playing time the match(es) shall be extended with "sudden death", maximum 20 minutes (2 x 10 minutes), and after that penalty strokes (see point 2.2). Sudden death means that the match ends when a goal is scored.

3. The age and gender of the players

A player must reach the minimum age of 15 years before January 1 of that bandy season (example in season 2024-2025: before January 1, 2025).

A player is considered as a Y17 player for the whole calendar year during which the player reaches the age of 17.

A player is considered as a Y16 player for the whole calendar year during which the player reaches the age of 16.

For the calendar year in this article you have to read the "calendar year in which the bandy season ends". So, in season 2024-2025, read calendar year 2025.

- 5.5 Each player should present their passport (or national identity card) before the tournament starts. Tournament Director (see 8) is responsible for passport control (with focus on date of birth).

- 5.6 Exemptions

There is one exemption possibility:

A club team can use goalkeepers who are born maximum 1 year before the year of birth allowed in the tournament, but the team cannot use an overaged goalkeeper from another club. Example: A goalkeeper born 2005 can participate in a tournament that allows players born not earlier than 2006.

- 5.7 Sanctions

If the deadlines about sending in the preliminary team list and requests for exemptions are not met, there will be a financial sanction of USD 100 per day with a maximum of 7 days. A later submission will not be accepted.

After consideration of the report the Jury must, in case the infringement of the rules is regarded as severe or brutal, exclude the player for one or several matches or exclude the player from the present WCC.
