3. Technical Committee (TC) verbal exchange and consultation

An exchange between all the different parties and point of views are very helpful to achieve our goals to improve Bandy. All members approved the dialog with Frank Peters very much.

The situation to achieve all of our topics is not that easy. The budget and resources are limited and we need to work with what we got. Certain points are easier to adapt then others and the AC wants to focus on those who are more realistic as well. It is also in all our interest to improve the status of the B groups.

The AC wants to thanks Frank Peters for his time and his effort for our beloved sport.

The Technical Committee (TC) contacted the AC to gather athletes' input, information, and point of view on several questions regarding the organisation of the jury that chooses the best players of the tournament.

Do AC think this is a good idea, or do we leave it to the organizers on their own?

We support a solution where more than just one party is involved in to the process. It would make the decisions more understandable and less biased.

Who is responsible to gather the people for the panel. Which of the three: FIB, organizing federation or the organizer?

The best forum would be the coaches meeting before the tournament to establish all the information, as well as the criterias for the award winners.

Who could be put in the panel from FIB? It can be on or more person. Maybe also somebody from the AC (if they are present)?

We like the idea that one representative for each nation has the same voting right (except for themselves) as the other jury members. And it would be welcome if there is more than just one other member, besides the representatives from the nations, in this panel (e.g. organizing federation and FIB).

Anything you want to add?

We would like to have a category for Best coach as well.

4. Bandy Developpment Camp for B-nations

After the WCS survey from us, we listed a few request from the athletes point of view. One was, that a Developpment camp should happen again.

With great pleasure we acknowledge the invitation for the Camp in November 2025 in Sweden.
